KEITH RICHMOND ON WHO'S DONE WHAT

SUNDAY SECRETS

Wall St dash . .

When Michael Douglas was stranded, wallet-less, in New York, without a cent to phone wife Diandra, he scooped the change from a Central Park wishing well. Being a good guy, he repaid his "loan" when Diandra arrived to pick him up.

☆ Quandary for former Dallas star Victoria Principal operating the other side of the camera, for the forthcoming TV movie Naked Lie. Should she let the star — herself — keep her wardrobe? Decision — executive producer: "Yes, but I didn't send me flowers!"

Clint lassoes Woody

TOUGH guy actor Clint Eastwood and comic genius Woody Allen are teaming up to make a million dollar movie.

I know it sounds like the most unlikely cinema duo.

But Clint, famous for his roles as Dirty Harry and the Man With No Name in Sergio Leone's spaghetti Westerns, flew to Paris to finalise details of the project.

Woody was staying at the Ritz there with Mia Farrow and their kids — they have seven between them from different relationships.

He and Clint shook hands on a deal which means Woody will write, Clint direct, and both star in what promises to be an hilarious spoof Western.

The twist is Woody plays the baddie ("a mean, evil bastard in black") and Clint the goodie ("a sensitive little wimp in white").

"They're both excited about the prospect of playing against type," says a chum.

Sounds a hoot.

☆ Bruce Willis is very unhappy that wife Demi Moore is filming About Last Night 2 with old flame Rob Lowe. The movie has some very hot sex scenes and poor Brucie is a tad jealous these days.

★ Jack Nicholson got into, um, hot water while staying with friends on a yacht at St Tropez. Wearing his familiar disguise — big scarf, hat and dark glasses — he rented a bicycle to scout for girls.

But the brakes failed coming back along the wharf and Jack, looking like ET on a bike, went sailing through the air into the drink.

Joker Jack was fished out — but the bike is still at the bottom of the bay. Where's Batman when he's needed?

☆ Melanie Griffiths reminds me that when her mother Tippi Hedren spurned Alfred Hitchcock's advances, the great dictator — I mean director — sent seven-year-old Melanie a doll in a tiny coffin. Nice man, Hitch.

ANDY Get ahead, get a Capp. Tim Rice and Elaine Paige know Anything Goes today.

HAIR TODAY . . gone tomorrow. Toupee or not to be? Tony Curtis (left) gets a big hand from son Nicholas.

HOLD IT Ben Elton thinks this is the Wogan grin he's sporting below. Someone tell him it's the ET smirk.

SNAP You see, the rich ARE like you and me. This is Raquel Welch (above left) clutching her undies on her way to the launderette.

ALL SMILES Robert Wagner's wild child Katie on the town with a new man in her life. Dad is just happy it ain't former Sex Pistol Steve Jones any more.

Getting her pound of flesh

Roly-poly actress Roseanne Barr refused to strip for a sex scene in She Devil. At 5ft 4in and 15st, who can blame her? A stand-in was found — a size 22 model — who agreed to bare all for £125!

☆ An advert in a Hollywood newspaper offers a 1980 Corniche (white body, purple leather interior) for sale. Seems that Zsa Zsa Gabor doesn't want to go another 10 rounds with the Beverly Hills Cops.

PLUS "There's no wimpy Michael Crawford stuff in our version," says Nightmare On Elm Street star Robert Englund, who takes over the lead role in the Phantom Of The Opera film. "We deliver the goods. We stab 'em, rape 'em, dice 'em and slice 'em." Can't wait

OFF SONG Opera star Placido Domingo wonders when he's coming off the subs' bench to replace Pavarotti in the front line.
